MUST GET WARRANT TO SEARCH AUTOS

Peace officers may not search automobiles suspected of transporting whisky without a search warrant, Circuit Judge R. C. Stoll ruled at Lexington, in the case of Wesley Turner which was being tried on an appeal from County Judge E. H. Doak's court, where Turner was fined $300 and sentenced to serve sixty days in jail on a charge of transporting liquor.

Acting on the ruling of the court in holding that Turner's arrest was illegal, the jury hearing the case returned a verdict of not guilty and Turner was allowed to go free.

The decision was rendered in sustaining a petition filed by Turner's counsel, praying that "the acts of said sheriff and deputy sheriff in searching said automobile and obtaining evidence as herein set out, be declared unlawful and illegal, and that the evidence be adjudged incompetent and illegal and that the consideration of said evidence be rejected by this court."

In connection with the ruling, Judge Stoll said that if a person was arrested on a legal warrant for any charge or for speeding and liquor was found in the car, the offender might be prosecuted for transporting or possessing liquor. Officers may arrest persons also if they see liquor in their automobiles, the court said.

In discussing the case, Commonwealth's Attorney Maury Kemper said, "Under the Kentucky law nothing can be searched without a search warrant."

STUDENTS MUST STUDY U. S. CONSTITUTION

Hereafter no student will receive an academic degree from Sewanee University until he or she successfully completes a course on the Constitution of the United States, according to a resolution adopted by the board of trustees.

The course required shall have special reference to and emphasize the spirit of the founders of the republic and the interpretation of the Constitution by the highest courts of the country.

By the resolution the University of the South becomes the first large institution of learning in America to make it impossible for anybody to receive a degree unless he has received a good understanding of and shows a profound respect for the American Constitution.

How Anna Won Out.
"Funny how things work out sometimes," said the married marine to a bunch of his buddies. "Two years ago I was going around with Ethel and Anna, and I couldn't for the life of me tell which of the two I wanted to marry. One night I dropped into the post exchange to buy a cigar. Right on the cigar band, as large as life, it said, 'Hav-ana!'" —Leatherneck.

NOAH'S ARK WAS ONLY A PYRAMID

This Is Theory of Doctor Getsinger Based on Years of Study and Exploration.

CHEOPS WAS NOT THE BUILDER

Animals That Went Into Ark Were Not Material but Spiritual Animals, the Animals of the Zodiac, Aries, Taurus, Etc.

Los Angeles.—Noah's Ark, built to save the human race from the flood of ancient Bible times, is still extant for all to see after 30,000 years. This is the belief of Dr. C. E. Getsinger, Egyptologist, now visiting Los Angeles.

Doctor Getsinger's conclusion is based upon recent discoveries following 35 years' research work and intensive study. He declares that the Ark of Noah was not a ship. It was the great pyramid of Cheops in Egypt.

Recent discoveries prove that the pyramids—Noah's Ark and the others—were under the sea for thousands of years. Near the top of each of the pyramids, at the same level, is a highwater line, where a deep niche has been cut into the rock by the lashing of a long-forgotten surf. Also, the inner passages of the pyramids are thickly crusted with salt, which a chemical analysis proves to be sea salt.

Doctor Getsinger is convinced that these monuments were built thousands of years before Cheops, to whom they have been accredited. Cheops merely repaired them and caused a casing of stones to be built over them.

Mystery of the Pyramids.

And he is convinced that the pyramid stands today a living monument to an old and noble philosophy, a greater civilization than any we have since attained. That great pyramid which, together with the sphinx and the nine smaller pyramids, have for centuries exercised the wonder and astonishment of scientists, who have frankly admitted that they could not have been built upon any known possible conditions, and that we have even today no means by which the immense stones used in the construction could be transported and adjusted into their present position.

In the great pyramid there are three chambers which conform to God's directions to Noah for the building of the Ark against the coming of the great flood—"with lower, second and third stories shalt thou make it."

And these three chambers, named for the three sons of Noah, Shem, Ham and Japhet, Doctor Getsinger thinks are intended to represent the three strata of human life and intelligence. The chamber of Shem, the lower, symbolizes the animals who have no souls. The second chamber, Ham, symbolizes human beings with souls, but of lesser intellectual and spiritual attainment. And the highest chamber, that of Japhet, symbolizes the inspired teachers—the spiritual intellectuals, souls of greater understanding.

Spiritual Animals.

The entrance which is 52 feet above the ground, Doctor Getsinger declares, was so placed that the North Star, the polar star, could shine directly into the interior from the heavens—which it did 30,000 years ago, and after a complete cycle, so shines again today.

This Egyptologist thinks that the animals that went into the Ark were not material animals but spiritual animals, the animals of the Zodiac—Aries, the Ram; Taurus, the Bull; Cancer, the Crab; Leo, the Lion; Scorpio, the Scorpion (insects); Capricornus, the Goat; Pisces, the Fish, together with II Gemini, the Twins; Virgo, the Virgin; Libra, the Balance; Sagittarius, the Archer, and Aquarius, the Water-Bearer.

The great flood of Noah's day did not submerge the whole of the present known world, but included only the ancient lost continent of Atlantis and Egypt. Atlantis has never reappeared, but Egypt, after 12,000 years under the sea, was resettled by immigrants from other lands, together with their animals.

FOCH LEADS BLIND SOLDIER

French Marshal Rebukes Attendant Who Says He Hasn't Time to Assist the Sightless One.

Paris.—"Excuse me; am I near the Wounded Soldiers' institute?" asked a blind veteran of a passing pedestrian as he tapped his way along the sidewalk. "I've been there only twice and I'm not quite sure of the way."

"You are close to it now; let me take you," came the reply.

Arriving at the door the guide said to the janitor: "Kindly take this man to the section for the blind."

"Take him yourself," growled the janitor. "Under the archway on the other side of the courtyard."

The civilian did so, but on the way out addressed the janitor again. "Couldn't you be a little more obliging to the blind?" he asked gently.

"There are too many and I haven't the time," was the response.

"It seems to me it is your duty to help them," said the other. "I can find time."

The man was Marshal Foch.

APPETITE FINE, GAINS TWENTY-SEVEN POUNDS

He Never Misses A Day From Job Since Taking Tanlac, Says This Akron Man—Mother Also Restored To Good Health.

"Our whole household believes in Tanlac for it restored my mother to health a year ago and has built me up twenty-seven pounds," said Ackerson C. Ball, 323 Dean street, Akron, O.

"I was almost skin and bones and was so weak and run down for several years I had to knock off work and go to bed for two or three weeks at a time. My stomach was so weak that when I did manage to force down some food I suffered from burning sensations and intense pains.

"Well, Tanlac had restored my mother when she was flat of her back for a long time and had tried everything else without result, so I took Tanlac, too. It is surprising the way it went after my trouble. I gained twelve pounds the first two weeks and have never missed a day from work since. We'll praise Tanlac the longest day we live."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

TEACHERS MAY USE SUPPLEMENTAL BOOKS

Teachers of Kentucky are free to use any supplemental books they may select, it was stated in a letter mailed out by George Colvin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, to all superintendents.

This letter was prompted by the fact that "some overzealous and enterprising book companies and supply companies have printed and distributed through the State lists of basal and supplemental books that are at least misleading."

"They give," the letter continues, "what purports to be a list of official adoption basal and supplementary books and state that the law requires the use of the pretended official list." Mr. Colvin emphasizes that it is not the purpose nor the desire of his department to dictate to any teacher or any board what supplementary books are to be used by them. The present text book law, it is pointed out, makes it compulsory only that schools use the adopted basal text books, but does not limit the use of supplementary text books provided they are not used in the place of the basal texts.

County school superintendents in some counties of the State are imposing on the teachers as a part of their contract the obligation of providing coal, chalk, brooms and other supplies, according to a statement by Mr. Colvin, who called attention to the fact that these contracts are not legal. Mr. Colvin is writing a letter to the county superintendents advising them that contracts of this kind should be recalled.

GOOD NEWS

Many Paris Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby

"Good news travels fast," and the many bad back sufferers in Paris are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

Mrs. J. T. Martin, 1024 Main street, Paris, says: "I fell and received an injury which left my kidneys in a weakened condition. I suffered severely, and although I took different remedies nothing gave me a bit of relief. My back ached and pained until I thought it would break and sharp twinges of pain shot through my kidneys. In one week after taking Doan's Kidney Pills I felt like a different woman and I still take them when I feel my kidneys need a tonic." (Statement given February 17, 1922.)

On November 12, 1920, Mrs. Martin said: "Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly all they are claimed to be and I recommend them just as strongly to-day as I did many years ago. I gladly confirm my former statement."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Martin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SURGERY ANCIENT ART

Were Skilled in Treating Diseases 3,000 Years Ago.

Delicate Operations, Hitherto Thought Modern, Revealed by Egyptian Document—Shows Evidence of Advanced Knowledge.

Chicago.—The restoration of youth to the aged, attempted recently by means of animal glands, was also attempted at least 3,000 years ago, according to Dr. James H. Breasted of the University of Chicago. An "Incantation of Transforming an Old Man Into a Youth of Twenty" is set forth in the Edwin Smith papyrus, the Egyptian document which Doctor Breasted has declared contains unparalleled evidence of advanced knowledge and scientific spirit on the part of Egyptian physicians of 1800 B. C. or earlier.

The incantation, on the contrary, he said, is characterized by reliance on hocus-pocus. Doctor Breasted's theory is that an extraordinary book on surgery and external medicine fell into the hands of a quack who was more interested in charms for making old men young, and who had the incongruous texts combined in the same roll. Thus in the papyrus magical formulae jostle an exposition of delicate surgical operations heretofore believed to be decidedly modern.

The handwriting indicates that it was probably written about 1800 B. C., and it was thought to be a copy of a manuscript that is at least a thousand years older. The original may have been written as early as 3400 B. C., it is thought, by some of the words which appear in the manuscript and which were long out of vogue in 1800 B. C.

The manuscript also contains "The Incantation of Expelling the Wind of the Year of Pest." This shows the widely prevalent notion which has persisted to the present day that the winds carry malignant plagues. The last two parts of the papyrus are written in a very different handwriting from the front page.

The columns in front treat of the head, the mouth, the neck and the spine, here the papyrus stops, but it is evident that the remainder treated the lower body.

The first group of ten cases described treat of wounds of the head, of which seven are knife and sword wounds. The surgeon is instructed how to probe the wound and in case of a severe knife wound told, "You should have made for him a wooden brace padded with linen (and have) the head fastened to it. His treatment should be sitting, placed between two supports of brick, until you know whether he is making any progress."

Case 8 deals with "a fracture of the skull under the skin." The surgeon is told to operate, to open at the point of confusion, and "to elevate the depression outward." It is possible trephining is involved here; if so it is the earliest mention of it in history.

HELICOPTER SUCCESS, CLAIM

Inventor Brennan Aided by Government Perfects Plane Said to Rise Vertically.

London, England.—A successful helicopter, dream of aviation experimenters for years, has been devised by Louis Brennan, with the aid of the British government, according to the Pall Mall Gazette. Mr. Brennan is the inventor of the Brennan torpedo and the gyroscopic monorail.

It is claimed the new helicopter can rise from and land on a small roof, hover stationary in the air, rise to a height of 2,000 feet and fly sixty miles an hour. All these requirements were to have been fixed by the British air ministry, which was preparing to offer for their fulfillment a prize of £50,000. The newspaper predicts that the helicopter will bring flying into everyday business and social life and adds: "For military purposes its ability to hover stationary over a given spot gives it almost incalculable value. It has, moreover, the quality of virtual invisibility owing to the blurred appearance of the rotating surfaces which keep it suspended in the air."

Woman's Love Fails to Lift.

Denver, Colo.—John Randolph, thief, whose wife said she was formerly Miss Elizabeth Calhoun, a graduate of the University of Chicago and daughter of Mrs. C. W. Dawson, wealthy resident of Kankakee, Ill., was sentenced the other day by District Judge Butler to serve from five to nine years in the penitentiary. Mrs. Randolph declared she married Randolph to reform him after her mother, Mrs. Dawson, had secured his release from the Missouri state penitentiary.

Extinguished Rival's Love With Fire Hose

Floyd Hyde of Akron, O., in court on charges preferred against him by Joe Mosturzo, told the judge that "Joe was coming home with my wife and I turned the hose on him. I don't know how many times she had been with him before, but I decided to put out whatever love fires might be burning, and I sure soaked 'em, judge." Judge Pardee told Mosturzo he had been given the right kind of treatment and dismissed the case.
